History

This is a trikuta temple. All the three garbhagrahas have an antarala and a common sabhamandapa. The east facing garbhagraha enshrined a Sivalinga. The northern garbhagraha is dedicated to Visnu and eastern to Aditya. Each garbhagraha has a decorated panchasakha door frame. In the sabhamandapa are Kaksasanas on either side and sixteen free standing pillars. A Nandi in the sabhamandapa is facing the Sivalinga in the garbhagraha. The sabhamandapa has Manchabandha adhisthana. On plan the exterior wall of the temple is in triratha order.
